Increases are proposed on account of (1) rise in the price of food grains (2) costly living (3) unhealthy locality (4) long service and hard work Items (1)(11) & (111) do not justify an increase in the emoluments of an officer Efficiency, long and faithful Service and hard work may be rewarded by transfers to better paid appointments on the occurrence of vacancies but do not of themselves give rise to any claim for an increase of pay If stagnation is feared, the better way would be to grade the several teachers and fix the number in each grade in such numbers that there would be a steady flow

(11) Though education is certainly a very desirable object of State expenditure, the more so when it deals with elementary education still the grants have to depend upon what our finances will be. With a certain large outlay on Public Works and Railways and with our revenues Stationary, there is every necessity to curtail recurring expenditure as much as possible

Every endeavour will be made to provide that will be considered necessary by the Administrative Deptt after due scrutiny of the claims in the interests of spread of education & for improving the quality of education imparted within the State

I am sorry not being able to acquiesce. The list does not appear to have been prepared with due regard to economy. I would make one or two general observations and then take up the several items one by one

23 (1) It is important in the best interests of the State that as much money should be devoted for the spread of Education as possible but this does not mean that applications for increased expenditure by the Edn Deptt should be sanctioned in full without strict examination of the necessity of each case. Money unnecessarily spent on the education Deptt does no good to the cause of education and is as much

Faulty observations in some places. Others may be faulty also. Some are known to be erroneous lost to the cause of education as wasteful expenditure in other departments

(2) Increase in the strength of teaching staff of schools is frequently applied for on account of increase in the number on the roll but reduction is never proposed for a decrease in the number In a fairly large number of cases it should be possible to ~~secure greater~~ meet demands ~~efficiency~~ more teachers by a redistribution of the numbers of teacher in ~~the~~ all the ~~several~~ schools taken together In fact as we have to deal with a large number of schools with fluctuating attendance – increasing in some cases & decreasing in others – an intelligent redistribution must always be going on to get the maximum work from the existing staff This does not seem to receive adequate consideration at the hands of the Dept Taking 25 pupils to a teacher as the ~~maximum~~ standard if the I Gs were asked to furnish a statement of schools in which the number of teachers is in excess of this standard, the full meaning of these remarks will perhaps be apparent I do not mean that a numerical standard like this can be an absolute guide under all circumstances but it will do very well as a rough guide –

This is well known & practised as far as possible One of the great obstacles is the refusal to give the I G discretion to make such alterations of Scale as soon as they become necessary without circumlocution –

NOTE—Contin ued on next sheet

GPI —20 000—20 1 13

(3) As regards menials, it is well-known that menials in schools have got light work and such work as they have can mostly be done at hours convenient to the men. If the work is heavy owing to any special reason as in case 1 in the list under consideration an increase of one or two rupees in the pay of the man will make him undertake the extra work gladly. This course will be more acceptable to the man & will also be economical. The principle of "home orderlies" has already extended too far and has become very embarrassing financially anything which looks like a continuation of the idea lower down should not be countenanced.

Do - cannot be expected to apply to village schools in the same way as he is asked for.

24 I now proceed to a detailed examination of the list. The remarks in each case may be regarded as supplementary to the remarks contained in respect of the case in the F D note dated 11 3 1912 & the observations of the Genl & Rev Secretary in the margin thereof.

Statement No 1 (addl establ & existing schools)

Item No 1 - With reference to the persons discussion in respect of this item it may be observed that the peons duty is to sweep the classrooms look after the buildings & furniture &c. He need not be working all the time that the classes are going on

NOTE—Contn sheet

GPB—50 000—13 5-08

Serial No

I do not know of any office where peons are "working all the time" I however leave it to Dewan to order increase of peons or increase of pay in fact he will have no work to do for most of the time One peon is certainly sufficient. If work is very heavy a proposal may be separately made to increase the pay by Re 1/-

I do not know how the H S makes out that I do not support the increase. 9 classes require 9 teachers & the average of more than 25 each teacher is quite sufficient

Item No 2. The discussion regarding this item on the file & the remarks of the Genl Secy and of the 1st Councillor (who also represents Dfg) make any further comments by me unnecessary In the opinion of all the extra teacher on Rs 12 a month asked for is not required

I leave this to the Dewan I do not see why any such general rule shd be laid down (If peons are disallowed Dfg may be told the reason so that he may examine these paper arguments in the light of actual local circs

Items 3 & 4 - Vide remarks under item 1. To prevent such applications in future it may be ruled once for all that no A V School is to have more than one peon In places where there are more already the extra man should be transferred at the earliest opportunity and the scale reduced.

The expression 'home orderly' is blessed apparently I think a sweeper necessary but leave it to Dewan to decide

Item 5 - The Genl Secretary considers this item unnecessary Unless the peon is being used as ~~[illegible]~~ home orderly the cleaning of nine class-rooms & a little extra work cannot be too much work for him.

I would not grudge this a Peon Mistress & Teacher women

Item 6 - A suitable change in the personnel of the menial staff is all that seems necessary. The peon or one of the

NOTE—Contn sheet

conductresses of of suitable caste can supply water The Govt Secy is also of this opinion The first Kannada girls school at Chintamani with 134 girls has managed upto this time with one menial only & wants only one more, Kolar has four menials & finds it insufficient / Even allowing for the fact that Kolar is a larger town, four I think is a sufficient number

Item 7 An additional sweeper on Rs 4/ seems necessary here but Mulbagal girls' with 66 pupils has two menials which seems excessive One may be transferred to Chintamani

Items 8, 9, 10 - Considering the poor attendance in these schools the additions proposed seem unnecessary If sewing qualification be necessary arrangement shd be made by redistribution to have a mistress with such qualification within the present sanctioned number The General Secy agrees in this view - In fact in the case of 8 & 9, the present number of teachers may be reduced by 1 as three teachers should be sufficient for 56 & 66 pupils respectively

Item 11 - 3 teachers for a school of 67 pupils of whom 45 are in the infant class seem sufficient - The

May be given & one reduction created when there is a vacancy

11

May be given without taking away from Mulbagal (It is an accident that this item position occurs in list)

Sewing is a very necessary subject The needs are so great that addl teachers may be given & the D.I. asked to readjust teachers acc^g to needs by altering scales of schools at his discretion

Absolutely necessary There is a populous place & attn is growing The att^ce is grown to more than 100 since

Two teachers @ Rs 10 — Rs 20/-
Both teachers & Peon necessary

~~Many~~ ?

Item 3 - A peon for a Panchama school with 33 pupils is not necessary. Genl Secy agrees in this view.

Items 4, 5 & 6 The increases asked for may be sanctioned in these cases but as observed by the Genl Secy the number of teachers in No 6, viz 5 for 82 pupils is excessive & should be reduced

For item 4, Teachers on Rs 10/-
5 Sewing Mistress Rs 12
6 Scavenger Rs 2
Rs 24
Deduct Teacher on Rs 10 from No 6 — 10
(The decrease viz Rs 14 cannot be made)

Item 7 - An additional peon is in my opinion quite unnecessary

Quite necessary

Item 8 The attendance does not seem to justify 8 teachers which is the number required for a school like Channagiri with about 240 pupils. In the discussion re Channagiri both Genl Secy & 1st Councillor think 8 teachers sufficient for that school & the same number is not required for

The number of ~~pupils~~ classes mainly govern the No of teachers 8 teachers for 12 classes not at all unnecessary.

Item 9 An additional teacher on Rs 10 may be given but the peon asked for is not necessary

How can there be redistribution, when only a few schools have Special teachers of Sewing & Music & many more are in need of them Both necessary

Items 10 & 11 - The attendance does not justify more teachers - If teachers with special qualifications are wanted the case should be met by redistribution

Only one peon may be allowed

Item 1 - Peon unnecessary, reason given not convincing -

1 Sewing mistress - Rs 10 } — Items 2 & 3 - May be allowed

Item 4 & 5 - Necessity does not appear very pressing considering the attendance also of boys & 6 class teachers

Item 6 - May be allowed

Item 7 - Neither additional teacher nor peon can be justified from the attendance

Both necessary

Teacher Rs 10/- Item 8 - A teacher on Rs 10/- may be sanctioned

Teacher Rs 10/- Item 9 - The additional teacher asked for may be given but not the peon -

Both necessary

Sweeper Rs 4/- Item 10 No objn

25 Statement No 2 (Increase of pay to existing teachers)-

With two or three exceptions the proposals this list consist of suggestions to increase the pay of peons in various places by Re1/- in each case- Most of the increases proposed are from 5 to 6 or 6 & 7- The acceptance of these proposals is financially objectionable as it will mean greater expenditure than the service demands- Individually some of the men by faithful and long service may deserve increase of pay, but the masters whom they have so served should empower the prospects of these men by recommending them for the better paid class of peonships of which there are a good many in all Talukes There are nearly 2000 peonships on Rs 6, 7, 8 & 9 in the Talukes and the need for throwing additional expenditure on the State to better the prospects of the school peons cannot therefore be admitted)

26 In the two or three cases in this list which do not relate to peons the Dy should reward good service by transferring the incumbents to better appointments opportunities for which may not be wanting in so large a Dept. What I mean to point out is that there is

Is it a favour or is it fair to a peon on 5 Rs in Madura value to be transferred to Dindigal on 6 Rs?

Cooly Rates have increased & Cost of living also- I do not know how the increase of 1R can be objected to except on the ground that the financial Dept Shd Consistently oppose all increases. It does not however invariably do so either!

no absolute standard in the matter of flow of promotion and if we go on increasing salaries for personal reasons like this we may not know where to stop.

2) Statement 3 (Contingencies &c)

As regards this statement I have nothing to add to the former note of the Finl Branch.

Rs 91½ - 22 = 69½

28 Statement 4 (New schools)

This statement includes only three items two for new girls' schools in Mysore city, (one at Chamrajpete & one at Doddapete) & one for a Panchama school at Chamrajnagar. There is no objection to the last proposal for though there is a very large Taluk School at Chamrajnagar with 11 teachers which can accommodate 30 more students the social customs of the country perhaps requires separate schools for these classes (Pathanas) - About the two additional girls' schools at Mysore there would perhaps be no objection if these schools would really increase the number of school going girls to a greater extent than could be achieved by less expensive means. In this connection I would point out that the Maharanis College at Mysore has got a very large establishment of 44 Teachers (male & female) for an average daily attendance of about 250 pupils which works to less than 6 pupils for a teacher - Moreover though a first grade college in Status & cost, the institution is mainly doing the work of an A V School as there are only about 20 pupils in the College & H S classes - I state this simply to shew that full work is not most likely taken from the greater part of this excellent staff - Cannot something be done to utilize the services of the members of this staff more fully in the interests of female education? Cannot more pupils be brought to the Maharani's college from the distant Mahallas of the city by having a few bullock coaches? And if more schools are opened cannot the services of some of the teachers in the college be utilized there? For these reasons I would postpone the proposals for the two girls schools in Mysore city until this aspect of the case has been fully examined

Rs 16½

29 For the above reasons I think that at present only an additional annual amount of Rs 2268/- need be sanctioned viz

Statement I - Rs 603/-

I need only say that these replies have been carried to others, but I could not see my way to reduce teachers after examination of work given to each of them. How ever if something may be possible if more time can be devoted to this work and other impediments are removed

The girls' schools are however necessary

31 PS — As an example of want of ~~co-ordinated~~ redistribution of teachers according to necessities I may mention one instance which comes to my notice just as I am finishing this note In the Chamarajpet School (Govt A V) during the last year there was one teacher in charge of the I Form with two students only & another teacher in charge of the next lower class with five students only Some of these students again were generally absent Considering the standard of these classes these 7 students of whom about 5 or 6 only would be generally present could be looked after by the same teacher. This is a case where one teacher could be utilized elsewhere with advantage It is possible that

With the exception of the Deputy Inspector of Mysore who has to correspond directly or indirectly with a larger number of schools viz 444, the work of correspondence in the Hindustani Deputy Inspectors Office is equal in heaviness to that in the offices of the other Deputy Inspectors except the Head Clerks of Hassan and Shimoga who get Rs 20 all the other Head Clerks drawing higher pay the maximum limit being Rs 30. Under these circumstances Haramkungara's pay may be raised to Rs 25. His case was represented to Government last year but they were not pleased to sanction the increase

				The increase in contingencies is necessary for the purchase of needle work articles for the sewing classes recently opened. The increase of rent is demanded by the land lord on the score that a similar building engaged for the Hindustani School gets a rent of Rs 6/-
2	1	2	1	The present rent was fixed about 20 years ago. The land lord has greatly improved the building and has also put up a compound wall and deserves the increase which the building deserves.

The school is held in two buildings rented at Rs 6 and Rs 2 respectively. The first land lord has rented out a similar building for the use of the Hindustani School at Rs 8 and demands an equal sum for this building also.

The school is a large one though maintaining the II Standard, and is badly in need of additional accommodation. The land-lady is not willing to provide increased accommodation unless she is given Rs 18 as a monthly rent. No other suitable building being available, the increase has to be sanctioned.

The land-lord has greatly improved the building by flooring the floor with Kuddapa slabs and demands the increase. No other convenient building is available for less rent.

The owner has issued a notice to the Head Master either to increase the rent to Rs 5 or to vacate. No other suitable building being available, the increase has to be granted.

The lower classes are now inconveniently accommodated in the old Anche house in the Peta. Being attached to dwelling houses on all sides, no improvements in light or ventilation can be effected to it. The site is not also sanitary. A good building at one end of the town with open space all round is available for a monthly rent of Rs 10, which may be sanctioned.

The increase is required for the purchase of Kindergarten materials.

A building is reported to have cost much and the owner wants an increase.

The Land Lords are said to have spent much for stone slabbing The increase is deserved.

The present House is reported to be crowded and unfit for school use. A new House constructed by the people according to the required dimensions is nearing completion

				The owner of the building says that the land on which the house is built is his property and that he is deprived of the profit of garden produce by having let out the building for school use. He therefore demands a rent of Rs 100 a year. The Circle Inspector says that no other houses are available for the school.

Circle
8	1	2	1	Before July of the current year the house rent was only Rs 7 a month. As the accommodation is quite insufficient and unsuitable for the growing strength of the school, an increase of Rs 13 a month was recommended in connection with the current year's budget but Government were pleased to sanction an increase of only Rs 5. It has not been possible to utilise the increased rent of Rs 12, as no suitable house at that rate of rent is available for occupation. Under these circumstances it is absolutely necessary that the rent should be raised to Rs 20 and the school shifted from the present building as early as possible. The amount allowed for contingent expenditure is quite inadequate for the school.
2				The present school building is reported to be insecure and situated on a corner of the Fort. It seems to have been condemned by visitors. It is necessary to remove the school to a central locality where houses cannot be secured for rent on less than Rs 5
